

BIOGRAPHY OF ELENA ZAMAGNI

Elena Zamagni MD, PHD, is Assistant Professor of Hematology at the University of Bologna, Italy. She received her medical degree from University of Bologna, where she also served her residency in haematology. She got PHD in Clinical Hematology at the University of Bologna in May 2005.

Her research interests include areas related to multiple myeloma, in particular on the role of high dose therapy with stem cell support , of prognostic factors and of imaging techniques.

She has published over 90 papers in peer-reviewed journals, mainly in the field of plasma cell dyscrasia. She has contributed to the educational session of the Italian Society of Haematology. She is an active member of the board of the GIMEMA myeloma working party and she has cooperated in the Scientific secretary and as principal investigator in several national randomized trials in multiple myeloma. She is a member of the Italian Society of Haematology and of the International Myeloma Working Group. She is serving on the EHA's Scientific Program Committee since 2017.