

Carlo Dufour chairs, within in the G. Gaslini Children's Hospital, Genova, Italy, the "Hemato-Oncology-SCT Pole and the Hematology Unit" where the National Registry of Neutropenia, the National Registry of Alps and related disorders, and the national Database of Fanconi Anemia have seats and where 75 clinical trials were or are still conducted. He authored or co-authored over 259 international publications and various hematology textbook chapters and co-edited a textbook called Congenital and Acquired Bone Marrow Failure. He acts as reviewer for top-ranking journals including the New England Journal of Medicine, Journal of Clinical Oncology, Leukemia, Clinical Immunology, and Blood. He serves as expert evaluator for different institutions including the French Registry for Rare Diseases, the Fanconi Anemia Research Fund Inc.(USA), the Leukemia and lymphoma Research Foundation (UK), and the American Society of Hematology Education Program. From 2014 to 2018 he acted as Chairman of the Working Party of the Severe Aplastic Anemia of the EBMT. He also serves as the Chairman of the Scientific Working Group on Granulocyte and Constitutional Marrow Failure Disorders of the European Hematology Association (EHA). In 2015 he received from the Fanconi Anemia Research Fund Inc. the Discovery Award for participating to the identification of gene FANCT.