

Hans-Jochem Kolb

Germany

1969/1970: Hematopoietic stem cell transplantation in the mouse after partial body irradiation (non-myeloablative) and antilymphocyte serum as pretreatment. (Doctoral thesis with "summa cum laude")

1971-1973: Research stay and scientific training with Prof. EDThomas (Nobel Prize 1990) and Prof. Storb, University of Washington, Seattle, USA

1973-1977: Helmholtz Zentrum München Construction of a preclinical transplantation model 1973

03/18/1975: first successful bone marrow transplantation in Germany as an expert Founding of the Bone Marrow Transplantation Association Munich

16/12/1981: Habilitation in Medicine, subject "Experimental and Clinical Bone Marrow Transplantation"

Aug. 1983: Recognition as a specialist in internal medicine, head field of bone marrow transplantation at the Med. Clinic III, University of Munich

Sept. 1988: Recognition of Hematology (Med. Oncology)

02.01.1985: Call to the University of Munich as Professor (C2) for bone marrow and stem cell transplantation

16.02.1996: Call to the University of Munich as a professor (C3) for hematological oncology

01.05.1999: Head of the Clinical Cooperation Group and the Unit for Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation at the University Hospital, Großhadern

30.09.2009: Retirement

01.10.2009: Senior Consultant at the 3rd Medical Clinic of the Klinikum rechts der Isar of the Technische Universität München

Focus:

- Acute myeloid leukemia
- Myelodysplastic syndromes