

Peihua (Peggy) Lu, M.D. Medical Executive President of Lu Daopei Hospital and Lu Daopei Institute of Hematology in Beijing, China

She is also an American Board Certified Hematologist & Oncologist.

Dr. Lu graduated from Peking University Medical School, and had her residency training at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in USA. She completed her hematology and oncology fellowship at Stanford University Medical Center, and she had many awards which including National Cancer Institute individual fellowship award and physician scientist award (K011).

Dr. Lu is member of ASH , ASCO, CAHON, Hematology Translational Medicine Standing Committee of China Anti-Cancer Association, Chinese Society of Clinical Oncology (CSCO) Anti-Leukemia Alliance Expert Standing Committee, Chinese Marrow Donor Program(CMDP) Expert Committee, and chairman of Hematology Specialty Committee of Chinese Non-government Medical Institutions Association (CNMIA).