

Biography of Humphrey H-C Yao

Dr. Humphrey H-C Yao is the Principal Investigator of Reproductive Developmental Biology Group at National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences, a branch institute of NIH in the U.S.A. He received Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1999, and completed his postdoctoral training at Duke University in 2002. Dr. Yao is a world-renowned expert on sexual differentiation of gonads and reproductive tracts.