

BIO – DR. MICHAEL M. ALPER

Dr. Michael Alper grew up in Canada and received his undergraduate and medical school degrees from McGill University in Montreal. He completed his OBGYN and Reproductive Endocrinology training at Harvard Medical School and co-founded Boston IVF in 1986 where he functions as Medical Director. Dr. Alper serves as faculty at Harvard Medical School and his focus has been quality standards in IVF and methods to improve the efficiency and acceptance of fertility treatments.