

Yoni Baert is specialized in male fertility preservation and explores new tissue engineered testis models. He is a president of the Network for Young Researchers in Andrology and authored 5 research papers besides 3 book chapters and contributed to 3 research and 1 review paper.