

CEANA NEZHAT, MD, FACOG, FACS

Fellowship Director, Atlanta Center for Special Minimally Invasive Surgery & Reproductive Medicine
Medical Director of Training and Education, Northside Hospital
Adjunct Professor of Gynecology & Obstetrics, Emory University School of Medicine
Immediate Past President, Society of Reproductive Surgeons
Past President, American Association of Gynecologic Laparoscopists

Dr. Ceana Nezhat is Fellowship Director of Nezhat Medical Center, Medical Director of Training and Education at Northside Hospital, and Adjunct Clinical Professor of Gynecology and Obstetrics at Emory University School of Medicine. He is Immediate Past President of the Society of Reproductive Surgeons (SRS) and Past President of the American Association of Gynecologic Laparoscopists (AAGL).

Dr. Nezhat has extensive experience in the treatment of multi-organ endometriosis. He has co-authored multiple textbooks and well over 100 peer-reviewed articles and book chapters. He has received numerous awards and accolades for his teaching and educational activities, as well as highly acclaimed awards for contributions to education. He has organized several international conferences, and is the founder and Chair of the World Symposium on Endometriosis.

While his primary focus is patient care, he is committed to continuing education and advancements in the field of Minimally Invasive Surgery.

For more information please visit our website at www.Nezhat.com.